

Happy Mother's Day

Every year, there is a day set aside to honor mothers. A day doesn't do it justice, that's why it's important to live it and show honor not just one day, but every day. Exodus 20:1 says, "And God spoke these words:" In the following verses, he gives the 10 commandments. 20:12 says, "Honor your father and your mother, so that you may live long in the land the Lord your God is giving you." We are called to honor our mothers.

Tonya and I spent some time this week talking about moms in general, Tonya as a mom, and our moms specifically. A few things about moms... We've been blessed.

From Tim: I was blessed growing up by having a mom that was always there, always supported me, always provided for me, always modeled and taught me how to be, how to live, and to behave. She instilled in me the importance of being present, doing the right thing, doing my best and to do all things in the name of the Lord. The blessings continue as I'm fortunate to live just 3 blocks from her. I can almost see her house through my front window. And, even now, as an adult, she still provides for me. To be specific, it was dinner this past week.

From Tonya: I've also been blessed with a mom who was there for me and instilled positive values in my life. Now I am in the next chapter of living life without her. In fact, I have lived a full year without her there for the big and small moments. I don't know what I miss most. I do know that I miss having that one person that knew and loved me unconditionally. I miss her mannerisms, the feisty quips she had, and the advice that she gave me. She taught me how to be the mom that I am, to love my family and to care for others.

Tim again: I've been blessed by Tonya being a mom to our four daughters. The qualities and characteristics I fell in love with were modeled for our girls as they were growing up: to be strong, to be persistent, to be kind, to serve, and to do your best. Just like my mom hasn't stopped with me, Tonya has not stopped with them. This past year at Easter, there was a social media trend about adults posting what they might do if their moms stopped giving an Easter basket. Not just hilarious, but really hilarious, was while I was watching those reels, Tonya was planning the Easter baskets for our adult children, and yes, even the son-in-laws received a "basket".

From the two of us: The blessings continue as we watch our oldest daughter be a mom to her three children. It's evident every time we see them, but this past weekend, several things stood out to me. I noticed the way the two older kids were playing with each other. They were sharing. The older was modeling for the younger, and they were truly just playing together. During the car ride, a Forrest Frank song came on and he sang about Jesus. From the back of the van, Zada yelled, "Jesus! He died and then came to life again!" I loved hearing that and knowing that my grandkids are learning about Jesus already and that so many of the things that were modeled to us, and by us are now being modeled to my grandchildren.

It is a privilege to honor mothers not just on this day, but every day. Happy Mother's Day!

If you would like to catch up a little on who is graduating from high school this spring you can find out more in the booklets available at the information table. Please take just one booklet per family.

Then Jesus said to all of them, "If anyone wants to come after Me, he must deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me."

High School Graduation Celebrations:

Danny Burgess will have a graduation celebration at his home) on Saturday, May 16, from 12-3 pm.

Ava Goodwin will have an open house to celebrate her graduation on Saturday, May 16, from 2-5 pm.

See the instant church directory or contact the office for their home addresses.

Communion Plans: On the first Sunday of the month, we will be passing the emblems. On the other Sundays, we will observe the Lord's Supper at the tables (or in your seat) as we have been doing. On these Sundays, a presider will lead a thought and prayer, and people are encouraged to have a moment of quiet reflection. You will then be given a cue to go and take the emblems at the tables. This is the time when you are encouraged to uplift one another. A leader will wrap up the time with a song or by calling us to pray for the offering and children's contribution. We will be transitioning to providing an offering box rather than offering trays in the near future, or you can continue using the Tithely app.

Weekly Events

Attended Nursery: You can drop off children ages 0 up to 2 years in the nursery during services.

Service at Legacy Square: There is a service for the residents of Legacy Square in Henderson at 2:30 each Sunday.

Women's Thursday Class has wrapped up for this year. It will resume in the fall.

Weekly Prayer Pal Suggestion

So I do not run as if I did not know where I was going. And I do not fight like a man just beating the air. But I control my own body really well. I make my body obey me. After telling others the good news, I myself do not want to be left out.
