

Plans for the Future

As I look towards retirement, I have had many questions about what I plan to do. The answer that I have given is that I want to be able to travel more, see what God has created and see more of my family. We often spend a lot of time trying to figure out what comes next for our lives. This includes our careers, our families and our finances. Planning on the future is something we all do to some level and the question for myself and for us all is whether we include God in our planning.

Do our plans always work out as we expect them to? I don't think any of us can say yes to that question! We learn from scripture that it is good to be prepared for the future. Consider the diligence of the ant mentioned in Proverbs 6:6-8 in storing up its food in the summer and gathering its food at the harvest as something that we should consider wise.

Planning with faith and allowing God to work in our lives and direct us in the way that we should go is the key. Making plans for your future is good but James warns us not to hold too tightly to those plans. Even the best laid plans are subject to change. Having a good plan, even the best plan, does not mean it is going to happen that way. Instead, James tells us that we must open ourselves to the potential for God to make changes. "If it is the Lord's will, we will live and do this or that." James 4:15

"So do not worry, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What shall we wear?' For pagans run after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them. But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well. Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.

~Mathew 6:31-34

We must be willing to continually review our plans and assess that they are in accordance with God's will and make changes as needed. If God is leading in our lives we must be ready to follow even if the direction is different than what we had planned. Make sure that you are willing to surrender to God's purpose and putting Him first.

Matthew 6:33 "But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well."

For me personally, I am trying not to make too many "plans" for retirement and I will hopefully learn more about what God has in store for me in the coming months and years.
